A Different Kind Of Dental Practice

Sydney Paediatric Dentistry (SYDPD) is a specialist paediatric dental practice that offers paediatric and orthodontic services. We are an age specific dental practice who treats only infants, children and adolescent patients. SYDPD's surgery has been carefully designed and created to introduce your children to dentistry in a relaxed and comfortable environment.

Paediatric Dentistry is a specialist field; when your child needs special medical attention you are referred to a paediatrician and the same is true with dentistry. Our professionals do not rely on adopting techniques used to treat adults as we have specifically designed treatment, consultation and sedation rooms that will ensure calm and stress-free procedures.

A specially trained team of front office staff, practice manager, clinical assistants, paediatric dentists, therapists, registered medical nurses (RN) and anaesthetists will ensure that you and your child have an enjoyable visit to the practice.

Paediatric dentistry is what we practice but your children's welfare is our top priority. Our experience working with children means that we may be able to identify other areas of your child's health that require attention and organise referrals to medical and allied health specialists to address the needs of your child.

SYDPD's aim is for your child to have a long lasting happy experience at the dentist which will lead them to have healthy teeth for their future.

What To Expect On Your First Visit

"State of the art dental equipment"

We aim for your child to be totally at ease before any treatment is carried out and to be relaxed about coming to Sydney Paediatric Dentistry for future visits. At the first visit we rarely carry out any dental procedures, unless absolutely necessary. Your child may have come to us with a complex dental problem and, possibly, with some negative experiences. With this in mind, this consultation will provide patients and parents with information about their dental issues plus a thorough assessment of your child's individual needs.

Any questions you have can be raised at this first visit and our team will gladly provide any information you need. You may also visit our website at www.sydney paediatric dentistry.com.
